NOW, HOW ABOUT THIS PERSON, NELSE, WHO CHANGED "STATE" TO SOMETHING ELSE?

This is the comment many are making on the latest innovation of N. P. Nelson, secretary to Governor John C. Cutter.

Mr. Nelson enjoys the governor's confidence to a degree past ordinary belief. The governor defers to Mr. Nelson's judgment in many matters of routine confidence duth the above a spread eagle of a type distinctly "sassy."

"How do you like the new letter head?"

Mr. Nelson inquired of visitors.

"sassy."
"How do you like the new letter head?"
Mr. Nelson inquired of visitors to the governor's office, displaying with pride the new design. ""Commonwealth" of Utah! Oh. you highbinder! What do you mean?"

"Why, it's quite the proper thins. All the leading states use it that way. Look schote!"

With this he produced from the files a letter from the governor of another state. A glance at the signature showed that the letter head exhibited belonged to the awful Pennyacker of Pennsylvania, and the rage of the visitors increased. There is some talk of instituting quowarranto proceedings against the secretary.
